WIRING INSTRUCTIONS

The lighting in the fast food stand can be powered via either track power or by a 9v battery. To set up the building's power, gently turn the restaurant upside down and prop it carefully on a soft surface, so you do not damage the decorated shell.

Caution: Because there are different light bulbs for track and battery power, you should choose which method you will use and not try to switch between the two. The 18v bulb has a white socket, and the 9v bulb has a grey socket.

To wire for track power:

With the transformer turned off, connect the AC hot and AC ground wires from the transformer to the two connection ports indicated on the bottom of the base.

The restaurant will be delivered with an 18v bulb (with a white socket) installed, which is the appropriate bulb for track powered lighting. DO NOT ATTEMPT TO RUN FROM TRACK POWER IF THE 9v BULB (WITH A GREY SOCKET) IS INSTALLED.

Note: there is an on-off switch on the back side of the restaurant itself. Keep the switch pushed to the right/ on position when you operate from track power.

To run lights from a battery:

The restaurant will be delivered with an 18v bulb installed, which is the appropriate bulb for track powered lighting but will be underpowered if used with battery power. Replace the 18v bulb (as described on the next page) with the 9v bulb (with a grey socket) included in the packaging.

Remove the cover from the battery box and install a 9v battery as indicated.

If you power the lights with a battery, you will need to turn them on and off manually when you enjoy your layout. Flip the switch to the left for the on position and to the right for off.
